THE GETRETRACTED.COM DIFFERENCE

Customization

Each retractable screen is custom-made to the customer's exact specifications. We do not have a warehouse full of pre-built screens, which means a perfect fit and design tailored specifically to you. You are able to choose a unique combination of color, screen type, and motor controls depending on your application.

Limited Lifetime Warranty

We proudly stand behind our products. Each of our retractable screens come with a limited lifetime warranty. For more details about our warranty, please visit us online at www.GetRetracted.com.

Made in the U.S.A.

We believes it is very important to create and maintain American jobs. We proudly manufacture all of our retractable screens here in the U.S.A.

OUR PRODUCTS

StowAway™ retractable screens retract horizontally to provide protection and ventilation for many types of openings such as entry doors, french doors, patio doors, decks, and more. See pages 4 and 5 for more details.

Panorama™ wide format retractable screens operate vertically, with both manual and motorized options available, to provide screening solutions for large architectural openings such as garages, large windows, porches, archways, and more. See pages 6 and 7 for more details.

PanoramaLite™, similar to Panorama™ in both design and function, offers a more compact economic solution for large openings. Both manual and motorized options are available. See pages 8 and 9 for more details.

SportScreen™ pull-down retractable screens can be installed on RVs, toy haulers, horse trailers, and other vehicles to provide maximum versatility. See page 10 for more details.

Say goodbye to outdated screen doors and hello to a fresher view.

StowAway™ screens glide smoothly to allow you to bring the best of outside in. Providing breezy cross-ventilation and expanding your space, StowAway™ retractable screens block the sun's rays, as well as insects and dirt. StowAway™ eliminates the need for storm doors and enhances the style of almost any door or window. When not in use, it glides away into an attractive, self-protective casing. It is a refined, elegant solution for french doors, patios, lanais, decks, sun porches, sliding patio doors, and more. You select your favorite color, style, screen texture, UV filtering, and latching options.

People choose a GetRetracted authorized dealer because they:

- Offer and install quality products
- Have a good reputation
- Have friendly and courteous representatives
- Offer quick responses to any questions

Experience the versatility and convenience retractable screens can offer.

Similar to Panorama™ in both design and function, PanoramaLite™ retractable custom screens offer a more economic option for turning your garages, patios, balconies, or lanais into a more useable space. The small, compact size of PanoramaLite™ allows for the housing canister to almost disappear in many applications. PanoramaLite™ delivers privacy, ventilation, protection, and secure shading for various large openings around your home. You choose manual or motorized controls, color, and screen type.

We researched many different brands of screens and nothing compared to a GetRetracted.com retractable screen in terms of quality and the amount of options that were offered.”
